[SDGs 1] No Poverty

[1.3.4] Does your university as a body have programmes to assist students who fall into the bottom 20% of household income group in the country to successfully complete their studies?

NCUT actively supports the Ministry of Education’s national initiative to reduce educational inequality. The program targets students from households earning below NT$ 700,000 per year (approximately bottom 20 – 40 % of income distribution).

Subsidies between NT$ 5,000 and NT$ 16,500 are provided according to income level and need

1. Key Financial-Aid Measures

Category	Target Beneficiaries / Coverage	Support Provided
Tuition &amp; Fee Subsidies	Families ≤ NT$ 700 000 annual income	Partial or full waiver of tuition and miscellaneous fees
Living Bursaries	Students under financial stress	Monthly aid for food, transportation and supplies
Emergency Relief Bursaries	Students or families facing crisis (e.g. accident, illness, disaster)	NT$ 1 000 – NT$ 30 000 based on severity of situation
Accommodation Discounts	On-campus residents	Reduced housing fees to ensure safe living conditions

Work-Study Opportunities	All eligible low-income students	Flexible campus employment to earn education expenses

2. Implementation Framework

- Central Government Support:
NCUT aligns with the Ministry of Education’s “Comprehensive Student Aid Program,” prioritizing low-income students in fund allocation.

- University Coordination:
The Office of Student Affairs and the Center for Institutional Research manage subsidy applications, verification and fund distribution.
- Transparent Monitoring:
Every case is reviewed by the Student Grant Management Committee and approved by President Chen Kun-Sheng before payment

3. Emergency Relief Grants – Detailed Standards

Category	Situation	Amount (NT$)

4. Impact and Outcomes

- Expanded Access and Retention:
Continuous tuition subsidies and bursaries have significantly increased enrollment of disadvantaged students.
Example: In 2023 and 2024 a total of 53 students were admitted under the “Vision Plan” with a 90.87 % registration rate.
- Reduced Financial Burden:
From 2021 – 2024 NCUT subsidized registration fees for 725 students and covered transport and accommodation expenses for entrance exams.
- Sustained Fundraising:
Through corporate and alumni donations, NT$ 3.95 million was raised in 2023 as bursaries for the 2024 academic year.

- Academic Performance Improvement:

Institutional Research analysis shows higher average GPA and lower dropout rates among aid recipients.

5. Continuous Enhancement

- Annual review of subsidy criteria to better target students in the lowest income bracket.
- Integration of digital systems for real-time tracking of aid disbursement and impact metrics.
- Strengthened collaboration with industry partners to expand scholarship and internship opportunities.
- Expansion of mental-health and career-counseling services for financially vulnerable students.

6. Alignment with SDG 1 (No Poverty)

SDG Target	NCUT Action	Outcome Indicator
1.2 Reduce poverty through access to education	Financial support for students from low-income households	Increased graduation rates and reduced withdrawal due to financial reasons
1.4 Equal access to economic resources	Work-study and fundraising mechanisms	More students financially independent during study
4.5 Eliminate gender and economic disparities in education	Targeted aid for women and minority groups	Improved enrollment equity and completion rates

NCUT maintains a comprehensive and transparent support system for students from low-income families.

Through a blend of government subsidies, university bursaries, emergency relief grants, and fundraising initiatives, the university ensures that financial hardship does not hinder educational attainment.

This system directly advances UN SDG 1 (No Poverty) and SDG 4 (Quality Education) by providing equal access, enhancing student retention, and promoting inclusive education for all
